O R D E R

This matter arising upon petition of BellSouth Telecommunications, Inc., ("BellSouth"), filed October 24, 1996, pursuant to 807 KAR 5:001, Section 7, for confidential protection of the cost studies filed in support of its arbitration position on the grounds that disclosure of the information is likely to cause BellSouth irreparable harm, and it appearing to this Commission as follows:

This proceeding arises out of the Telecommunications Act of 1996 ("Act") which was enacted by Congress to, inter alia, open the local exchange market to competition. To achieve that objective, the Act requires, among other things, that incumbent local exchange companies provide interconnection to their local telephone networks, unbundle network elements, and provide existing services for resale to competing carriers. The Act permits the incumbent carriers to negotiate rates for the services they provide to the competing carriers. If rates cannot be agreed upon, Section 252(b)(1) of the Act allows competing carriers to petition a state commission to set the rates by arbitration.

The information sought to be protected was filed by BellSouth as part of such an arbitration proceeding which MCI Telecommunications Corporation ("MCI") instituted by petition to this Commission. The information known as The Kentucky Resale Study consists of a cost study which indicates how BellSouth has structured its operations and discloses financial information about its operation.

The information sought to be protected is not known outside of BellSouth and is not disseminated within BellSouth except to those employees who have a business need to know the information. BellSouth seeks to preserve and protect the confidentiality of the information through all appropriate means.

KRS 61.872(1) requires information filed with the Commission to be available for public inspection unless specifically exempted by statute. Exemptions from this requirement are provided in KRS 61.878(1). That subsection of the statute exempts several categories of information. One category exempted in paragraph (c)1 of that subsection is commercial information confidentially disclosed to the Commission which if made public would permit an unfair commercial advantage to competitors of the party from whom the information was obtained. To qualify for the exemption, the party claiming confidentiality must demonstrate actual competition and a likelihood of substantial competitive injury if the information is disclosed. Competitive injury occurs when disclosure of the information gives competitors an unfair business advantage.

Because a major purpose of the Act is to open the local exchange market to competition, information which would unfairly benefit potential competitors is entitled to protection. The cost studies sought to be protected by this petition fall into this category. The structural information together with the financial information would allow competitors an unfair commercial advantage in structuring their operations and offering their services. Disclosure of the financial information would also unfairly assist competitors in determining the expense and cost data associated with BellSouth's business units thus indicating the company's business plans for serving customers. Competitors could use this information in developing business strategies, networks and operations, and in designing their service operations and marketing plans for those services. Therefore, disclosure of the information is likely to cause BellSouth competitive injury and the information is entitled to confidential protection.

This Commission being otherwise sufficiently advised,

IT IS ORDERED that the avoided cost study filed as part of the arbitration proceeding between BellSouth and MCI, which BellSouth has petitioned to be withheld from public disclosure, shall be held and retained by this Commission as confidential and shall not be open for public inspection.

Done at Frankfort, Kentucky, this 26th day of November, 1996.

CASE NO. 96-431

O R D E R

This matter arising upon petition of BellSouth Telecommunications, Inc., ("BellSouth"), filed October 24, 1996, pursuant to 807 KAR 5:001, Section 7, for confidential protection of the TELRIC studies filed in support of its arbitration position on the grounds that disclosure of the information is likely to cause BellSouth irreparable harm, and it appearing to this Commission as follows:

This proceeding arises out of the Telecommunications Act of 1996 ("Act") which was enacted by Congress to, inter alia, open the local exchange market to competition. To achieve that objective, the Act requires, among other things, that incumbent local exchange companies provide interconnection to their local telephone networks, unbundle network elements, and provide existing services for resale to competing carriers. The Act permits the incumbent carriers to negotiate rates for the services they provide to the competing carriers. If rates cannot be agreed upon, Section 252(b)(1) of the Act allows competing carriers to petition a state commission to set the rates by arbitration.

The information sought to be protected was filed by BellSouth as part of such an arbitration proceeding which MCI Telecommunications Corporation ("MCI") instituted by petition to this Commission. The information consists of several cost studies of different service offerings, and includes vendor-specific prices for goods and services negotiated by BellSouth.

The information sought to be protected is not known outside of BellSouth and is not disseminated within BellSouth except to those employees who have a legitimate business need to know and to act upon the information. BellSouth seeks to preserve and protect the confidentiality of the information through all appropriate means.

KRS 61.872(1) requires information filed with the Commission to be available for public inspection unless specifically exempted by statute. Exemptions from this requirement are provided in KRS 61.878(1). That subsection of the statute exempts several categories of information. One category exempted in paragraph (c)1 of that subsection is commercial information confidentially disclosed to the Commission which if made public would permit an unfair commercial advantage to competitors of the party from whom the information was obtained. To qualify for the exemption, the party claiming confidentiality must demonstrate actual competition and a likelihood of substantial competitive injury if the information is disclosed. Competitive injury occurs when disclosure of the information gives competitors an unfair business advantage.

Because a major purpose of the Act is to open the local exchange market to competition, information which would unfairly benefit potential competitors is entitled to protection. The cost studies sought to be protected by this petition fall into this category. Disclosure of the information would give competitors an unfair business advantage in formulating strategic plans for overall business strategies, including entry, pricing, and marketing. Additionally, disclosure of the vendor-specific price information would impair BellSouth's ability to contract for goods and services on favorable terms in the future. Therefore, disclosure of the information is likely to cause BellSouth competitive injury and the information is entitled to confidential protection.

This Commission being otherwise sufficiently advised,

IT IS ORDERED that the TELRIC studies filed as part of the arbitration proceeding between BellSouth and MCI, which BellSouth has petitioned to be withheld from public disclosure, shall be held and retained by this Commission as confidential and shall not be open for public inspection.
